COVERING ENERGY RISKS

An offshore oil well suffers a blow out; an onshore drilling rig catches fire; leaking oil causes extensive pollution; an energy service contractor is involved in a road collision.

Losses in the energy industry, whether property or liability related, can have significant impacts on our clients' balance sheets – demanding a robust, comprehensive and swift insurance response.

Covering the risk

Through our hugely experienced energy underwriting and claims teams, Hiscox is committed to building long-term relationships in the energy insurance arena. With a broad risk appetite, our underwriters have a proven track record of covering assets of the highest value through to the legal/contractual responsibilities and liabilities faced by companies operating in the energy industry.

Our wordings team enables us to design bespoke cover for our clients. When it comes to making a claim, our brokers and clients can rely on one of the leading claims teams in the market who are well experienced at handling the most complex energy property and liability claims.

Hiscox Energy

We cover a wide range of businesses operating in the energy sector, from upstream to downstream, including:

- drilling contractors (offshore and onshore)
- exploration and production companies
- construction companies and contractors
- service contractors
- transmission and distribution companies
- renewable energy companies.

Our appetite

Offering a line size of up to $125m for property risks and $25m for liability risks, we underwrite on a primary, quota share or excess basis for all types of energy risks anywhere in the world.

Property package cover includes:

- physical damage
- construction
- control of well (including re-drill and pollution)
- business interruption
- third-party liability.

Liability cover includes:

- general liability
- maritime employers' liability
- umbrella liabilities (excess MEL, EL, GL, auto, etc.)
- pollution
- oil pollution act certification
- construction liability.
